GEA customized configurations

1) Frame structure kit

- 1.1. Each GEA configuration requires two supporting legs TA-TT9.
- 1.2. The maximum allowable length for each composition with a height of 600 mm or 800 mm is 3550 mm.
The maximum allowable length for each composition with a height of 400 mm is 1800 mm.
If this length is exceeded, an additional supporting leg TA-TT9 will be required.
A single-piece countertop must not exceed 3550 mm; beyond this length, it will be provided in at least two parts.

2) Definition of the units' height

- 2.1. Gea kitchen units are available in heights of 800 mm, 600 mm, and 400 mm.
It is possible to set a fixed height for the whole configuration.

- 2.2. Configurations can have units of different heights. In this case, the top alignment must be maintained, and a supporting leg TA-TT9 must always be placed between units of different heights (see figs. A and B).
- 2.3. It is possible to include a unit with a different height aligned at the base (see fig. C). In this case:
- Only one unit of lower height can be included in the configuration; after this, the configuration height (equal to that of the other modules) must be restored.
 - The unit cannot be placed next to the bbq top, nor can it be positioned at the ends of the configuration.
 - The unit must be the height immediately below that of the other modules in the configuration (H=400 for H=600 configurations; H=600 for H=800 configurations).
 - It will not be possible to select a stainless steel countertop.

For GEA kitchens where a module is only aligned at the bottom (see figure C.), it is recommended to provide infill side panels at the height of the adjacent modules and a Infill upper panels for units not aligned with the countertop at the width of the lowest module.

- 2.4. Examples of non-allowed configurations:

3) Barbecue installation

3.1. When a barbecue top is included in the configuration, it must be placed on a lower-height unit, as follows:

- For configurations with units up to 400 mm in height, the W5-2 bbq can be installed on the dedicated T6C-2* unit (see fig. A).
- For configurations with units up to 600 mm in height, the bbq should be placed on a 400 mm high module.
- For configurations with units up to 800 mm in height, the bbq should be placed on a 600 mm high module.

3.2. The installation of the bbq top always requires a FILLER SHELF:

- For bbq tops T9-4G and W9-4, use code TA-B9
- For bbq tops T7-3G and W7-3, use code TA-B7
- For bbq top W5-2*, use code TA-B6 or, when installing the bbq on unit T6T-2, use code TA-B6-2

*Always needs lateral filler kit TA-KFW5

4) Kamado unit installation

4.1. In the case of including a T6C-6 BGE or T6C-8 BGE unit for accommodating a Kamado Big Green Egg size Large (not included) in the configuration:

- The T6C-6 BGE or T6C-8 BGE unit requires a supporting leg TA-TT9 at each end.
- All unit in the configuration must include INFILL REAR PANELS (see chapter 5).
- The choice of the countertop, if ordered with the configuration, must be one of the two available finishes in HPL (see chapter 8).
- The chosen countertop must be 725 mm deep.

5) Infill panels

5.1. Two INFILL SIDE PANELS must always be included for the ends of the configuration and, where applicable, at both ends of the units housing a barbecue top or any unit of a different height. In all cases, H must correspond to the height of the tallest unit.

5.2. In the case of island installation, INFILL REAR PANELS must be included in a quantity equal to the number of units; the height of the panels must always match the height of the reference unit, except for the units housing barbecue tops. In this case, the height of the panel must be equal to the height of the base unit plus 200 mm, which is necessary to also cover the back of the barbecue.

6) Kitchen completion kit

- 6.1. Each configuration must include at least one TA-KC kitchen completion kit.
The kit includes two support feet, an anti-tip kit, a user manual, and an assembly manual.
The support feet must always be installed at the joints of the modules housing a barbecue top and at a maximum distance of 1800 mm (see fig. D).
It will be necessary to provide a sufficient number of completion kits to meet these requirements.
For configurations that are entirely aligned at the base, the height of the kit must match the height of the tallest module. For configurations with varying heights exceeding 1800 mm, an additional completion kit must be selected based on the height of the modules (see fig. D).
- 6.2. The kit must have the same finish as the selected finish for the individual modules (see chapter 7).
- 6.3. Compositions with module heights up to 400 mm do not require the installation of support feet.

7) Finishes and colours

- 7.1. GEA modules offer the option to choose between two possible finishes for the legs and handles, as well as for the frame of the open shelving units.

- 7.2. The drawers or doors can be in the standard stainless steel (SS) finish or in one of the following color options: Nero Fumo (NF), Sabbia (SA), or Nuvola (NA).

8) Custom countertops

- 8.1. GEA can be completed with any custom-made countertop purchased separately.
The HPL countertops with Quercia (Q) and Lavagna (L) finishes, as well as the Aisi 316 stainless steel (S) countertop, can be custom-designed for any personalized configuration.
A single-piece countertop must not exceed 3550 mm; beyond this length, it will be produced in at least two parts.
